➔ About the College

University College, Thiruvananthapuram, established in 1866 and originally known as His Highness The Maharajah's College, is one of India's oldest and most prestigious institutions of higher education. Offering 18 UG, 21 PG and 18 PhD programmes and having more than 220 permanent faculty members, the college is by all means academically vibrant. The college consistently securing the First Rank in NIRF in Kerala bears testimony to this fact. The students of the college, comprising more than 3000 young women and men, form a true cross-section of the educational aspirants of the state and beyond.

The Department of Mathematics, one of the earliest departments in the college, was established in 1886. Eminent academicians in the order of Prof. P. Hariharan, Prof. S. Parameswaran, Prof. S. Madhavan, and Prof. E. Krishnan have adorned the department. The department alumni can currently be seen placed in institutes of national importance as postgraduate students, researchers and teachers. The department has an excellent library comprising more than 7000 books, some of which are rare.
